You have heard that it was said, 'An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.' But I say to you, offer no resistance to one who is evil. When someone strikes you on your right cheek, turn the other one to him as well. If anyone wants to go to law with you over your tunic, hand him your cloak as well. Should anyone press you into service for one mile, go with him for two miles. Give to the one who asks of you, and do not turn your back on one who wants to borrow. "You have heard that it was said, 'You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy.' But I say to you, love your enemies, and pray for those who persecute you, that you may be children of your heavenly Father, for he makes his sun rise on the bad and the good, and causes rain to fall on the just and the unjust. For if you love those who love you, what recompense will you have? Do not the tax collectors do the same? And if you greet your brothers only, what is unusual about that? Do not the pagans do the same? So be perfect, just as your heavenly Father is perfect.

Matthew 5:38-48

Meditation Prayer:

Imitating the perfection of God might seem an unattainable goal. Jesus speaks of holiness, and explains his law, by contrasting the imperfect justice of the scribes and Pharisees with the higher justice of the Kingdom of God. We are required not only to avoid repaying others the evil they have done to us, but to seek generously to do good to them. Jesus asks those who would follow him to love those who do not deserve it, without expecting anything in return, to fill the emptiness present in the entire world. Jesus did not come to teach us good manners. To do that, he would not have had to come down from heaven and die on the cross. Christ came to save us, to show us the way, the only way out of the quicksand of sin, and this way of holiness is mercy, that mercy which he has shown, and daily continues to show to us. To be a saint is not a luxury. It is necessary for the salvation of the world.

- Pope Francis. Annotated.
